

Action 2015: How can the private sector help deliver the Sustainable Development Goals?

When

Wednesday 24 September 2014, from 1:15pm – 2:30pm

Venue

Conference room 5 in General Assembly building

Hosts

Ms. Kathy Calvin,
President and Chief Executive Officer of the United Nations Foundation

H.E. Mrs. Lilianne Ploumen,
Minister for Foreign Trade and Development Cooperation of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, co-chair of the Global Partnership for Effective Development Co-operation

Mr. Paul Polman,
CEO of Unilever, Chair of World Business Council for Sustainable Development, Board member UN Global Compact and former member of the UN High Level Panel on the Post-2015 Development Agenda

Objective

As UN member states negotiate a new set of Sustainable Development Goals (2015-2030) and a global Climate deal, there is a unique opportunity to agree an agenda that supports the contribution of business to delivering a sustainable, equitable future for all.

In order to ensure valuable time is not lost, we need to preplan means of implementation so that we are ready to take action as soon as the agenda is set. At the session, a group of companies will present a Manifesto - outlining the role of business in sustainable development. This will be followed by a group discussion on how to translate this vision into action.

Participants

High level representatives of companies, governments, global business organisations, and civil society.
