

Global Partnership
for Effective Development
Co-operation

Evidence on Enhanced Effectiveness

17th Steering Committee Meeting
26-27 March 2019
Kampala, Uganda

Global Partnership

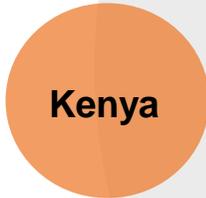

Pilot Countries

Global Partnership

Country Pilots

Strengthening management & use of data

Strengthening coordination mechanisms

Developing effectiveness policies

Monitoring the effectiveness of SSC

Understanding new sources of finance

Finalising the Country Pilots

- Pilot countries are currently completing final reports on their activities. These reports will follow the same basic structure, allowing for comparability and collecting of lessons:
 1. Background – effectiveness challenges to be addressed and why
 2. Activities undertaken
 3. Results achieved
 4. Key findings
 - Recommendations
 - Next steps
 - Reflections on the implementation process
 - These reports will be submitted by mid-April and will be discussed at a pilot conclusion workshop, scheduled to take place on 8-9 May in Cologne.
 - This workshop will bring together executive and non-executive stakeholders from pilot countries, members of the Enhanced Effectiveness at Country Level working group and representatives of Global Partnership Initiatives to discuss findings.
 - These reports will provide a key source of evidence for the Global Compendium of Good Practices.
-

The Global Compendium of Good Practices

- The purpose of the Global Compendium is to provide guidance to countries and their development partners on implementation of effectiveness commitments at country level, drawing on experienced-based evidence. It will cover the five following areas:
 1. Engaging the Full Variety of Development Partners
 2. Strengthening Coordination and Dialogue Mechanisms
 3. Building the Capacity of All Stakeholder Groups
 4. Collecting, Managing and Using Development Co-operation Data
 5. Understanding and Managing Diverse Development Finance Flows
 - Each of these areas will be broken further broken down into specific challenges and proposed good practices, as identified through the global Call for Evidence and complementary research (undertaken as a joint effort with the knowledge sharing workstream).
 - The Call for Evidence received 95 submissions from over 40 countries and organisations globally. An additional 248 resources have been identified through ongoing complementary research.
 - The Global Compendium will also draw on past monitoring findings, the results of the private sector engagement case studies and other Global Partnership work.
 - The structure of the Global Compendium will be reflected in the Knowledge Sharing Platform, allowing good practices to be updated, elaborated and further shared.
-

A Sample Chapter Structure

1 Engaging the Full Variety of Development Partners

1.2 Creating an Enabling Environment for Civil Society

Why is this Important?

Common Challenges

- Engagement with CSOs is ad-hoc
- Engagement with CSOs is not inclusive
- CSOs lack access to vital information
- CSOs lack the capacity to engage in development activities

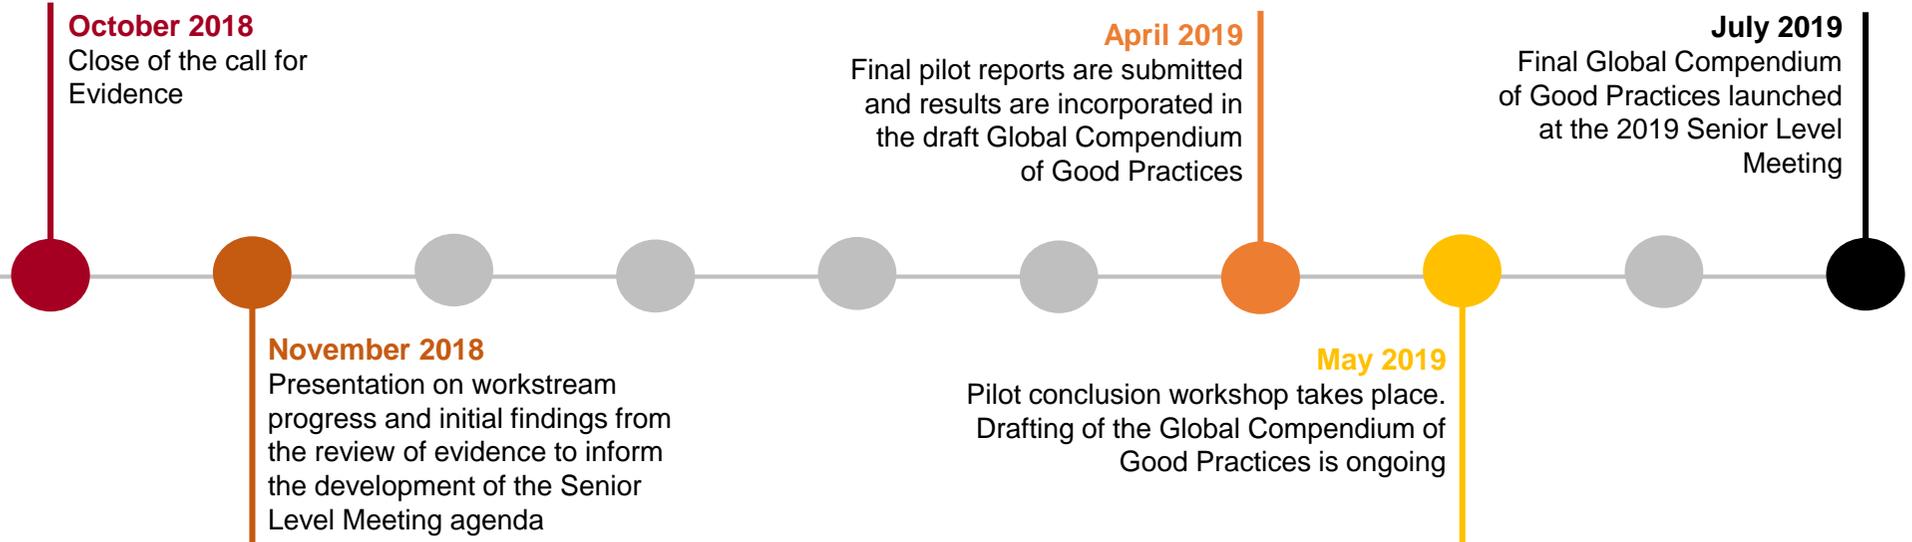

Good Practices

- Institutionalisation of CSO engagement – in cooperation policies and coordination mechanisms
 - Engaging representative CSO focal points, as designated by CSOs
 - Ensure CSO access to development cooperation information
 - Build the capacity of CSOs
-

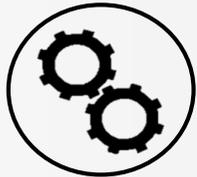

Global Partnership

Workstream Timeline

KEY MILESTONES

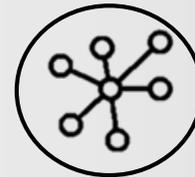

KEY PROCESSES

May 2018 to April 2019
Design and implementation of country pilot activities

October 2018 to December 2019
Review of submissions received through the Call for Evidence

January to March 2019
Additional complementary research undertaken and Global Compendium outline developed

April to June 2019
Drafting and finalisation of the Global Compendium of Good Practices