

The Global Partnership: Supporting Effective Co-operation at the Country Level

4 Effective Co-operation Principles

As agreed in the Busan Outcome Document in 2011, the Global Partnership is a multi-stakeholder platform to advance the effectiveness of development efforts by all actors, to deliver results that are long-lasting and contribute to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). More than 160 countries and 50 organisations agreed to the following 4 principles for effective co-operation:

Strategic Output 1

To deliver on the 4 principles, the Global Partnership’s biennial programme of work defines targets and responsibilities focused on six inter-related and mutually reinforcing strategic outputs:

Country Level Pilots

In line with Strategic Output 1, the Global Partnership launched country level pilots in an effort to support increased effectiveness at country level and to demonstrate the positive impact of effective development co-operation and the achievement of national, regional and global development goals. The evidence generated through this piloting exercise will inform the creation of a global compendium of good practices related to country level implementation of the effectiveness principles. The pilot countries are:

- Bangladesh      El Salvador      Laos      Malawi      Rwanda
Cambodia      Georgia      Kenya      Mexico      Uganda
