

Global Partnership Initiatives (GPI) Google Group

The Global Partnership Initiatives Google Group helps to facilitate interaction between the diverse set of 29 GPIs. At the Strengthening Engagement with Global Partnership Initiatives workshop in Bonn (March 2018), GPIs overwhelmingly called for creation of mechanisms for synergising their work, and noted that they have much to learn from one another. Though many of the GPIs are working on diverse areas of co-operation, it was noted that there is still room to share knowledge about issues including management of or advocacy for their GPI, networking, etc.

How to Use the Google Group

- GPIs can use this forum to announce events and resources, or post questions, discussion threads or collaboration opportunities.
- To learn how to post or engage with the Google Group, click here.

How to Join

- The group is open to all Global Partnership Initiatives. Please e-mail gpis@effectivecooperation.org with a request to join the group.

Rules of Engagement

- Please be mindful that messages will be sent to all group members. As such, we kindly request that you do not send more than one message per week. If you would like to change this setting, you can do so by clicking, 'Edit My Membership' on the right-hand side of the group and selecting 'No Email'. If you choose this option, you will no longer receive e-mail updates, but you will be able to log in and read discussions.
- Please note that you do not need a g-mail account to read messages. You do need a g-mail account to post messages.

For any additional questions, please e-mail gpis@effectivecooperation.org.