BUSINESSES CONTRIBUTE TO SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT
through ingenuity and by creating jobs and delivering services for their communities. They are also increasingly adopting approaches and business models that focus on profitable solutions to sustainable development challenges.

INNOVATIVE PARTNERSHIPS ARE KEY TO DELIVERING THE 2030 AGENDA:
Development co-operation can provide a range of opportunities to engage effectively with the private sector and broker multi-stakeholder partnerships that work for all. Engaging businesses as strategic partners – not merely as financiers or recipients of funds – is key to harnessing their full potential for the SDGs. Any private sector partnership that benefits from public resources, needs to create shared benefits – economic value for companies and benefits for society that address citizens’ needs.

FROM PRINCIPLES TO ACTION.
The Global Partnership aims to build on these “Kampala Principles” and help partners initiate action by more strategically utilising public resources for innovative solutions among public, private and civil society actors.

For more information and to get involved, please contact: info@effectivecooperation.org or visit our website: www.effectivecooperation.org

@DevCooperation
#GPEDC #2019SLM #DevCoop

@DevCooperation

TheGlobalPartnership

FOR EFFECTIVE PRIVATE SECTOR ENGAGEMENT THROUGH DEVELOPMENT CO-OPERATION

Improve partnerships with the private sector through better use of public resources
PRIVATE SECTOR PARTNERSHIPS DO NOT ALWAYS HAVE AN EXPLICIT “POVERTY LENS”, BUT SHOULD THEY? In over 900 projects in partner countries, 13% list the national government as partners, 4% explicitly refer to rural or underserved populations as target groups, 5% refer to targeting poor or low-income people, and 4% refer to targeting women. While not all projects require a “poverty lens” to contribute to the SDGs, there is considerable scope for such projects to more explicitly target those furthest behind.

MAKING PRIVATE SECTOR ENGAGEMENT (PSE) THROUGH DEVELOPMENT CO-OPERATION MORE EFFECTIVE
Following extensive consultations, a wide range of stakeholders and senior executives developed five principles for more effective private sector engagement through development co-operation:

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR

Inclusive country ownership
- Better engage with governments and national stakeholders
- Partner with governments and national stakeholders to simplify procedures and ensure efficient co-operation
- Build capacity
- Leverage opportunities for organisational capacity building to increase commercial success

Results and targeted impact
- Make a profit while doing good for the poor
- Achieve core business objectives that enhance business reputation and contribute to broader development goals
- Access finance for better results
- Mobilise public and private resources and expertise for greater impact and business results

Inclusive partnership
- Gain access to unexplored markets and consumers
- Enhance growth potential in emerging and hard-to-reach contexts
- Become a trusted partner
- Engage with trusted partners to build networks based on trust within communities

Transparency and accountability
- Enhance reputation
- Ensure credibility of social engagement for employees, customers and investors
- Gain market and customer insight
- Leverage knowledge of the development community to identify opportunities for targeted impact and commercial results

Leave no-one behind
- Foster innovation for product development and localisation
- Explore new business opportunities and develop products or services that respond to new demand and societal needs
- Mitigate risks
- Explore services and opportunities that development co-operation partners can offer to manage and mitigate the risk of private sector investments

PRINCIPLE 1: Inclusive country ownership
- Strengthening coordination, alignment and capacity at the country level

PRINCIPLE 2: Results and targeted impacts
- Releasing sustainable development outcomes through mutual benefits

PRINCIPLE 3: Inclusive partnership
- Foster trust through inclusive dialogue and consultation

PRINCIPLE 4: Transparency and accountability
- Measuring and disseminating sustainable development results for learning and scaling up of successes

PRINCIPLE 5: Leave no-one behind
- Recognising, sharing and mitigating investment risks for all partners